

Native American Development Corporation (NADC) is proud to host the 17th Annual Native ECon — our Economic Development, Energy, Procurement, and Healthcare Conference — in Billings, Montana, on August 4–6, 2026.

Building on last year's theme, The Art of Action, we move that work forward with our 2026 theme: Reclaiming. Rebuilding. Rising. Business The Indigenous Way. Together, these themes reflect both momentum and direction — from action into alignment with Indigenous ways of knowing, building, and leading.

Native ECon brings together 150–200 leaders from Indian Country and beyond — including tribal leaders, Native entrepreneurs, capital partners, healthcare administrators, and procurement officials — to strengthen Native economies and community systems.

The conference centers on connecting capital with Native-owned businesses, expanding procurement pathways, advancing rural and tribal healthcare, supporting energy and infrastructure development, and building the capacity of Native entrepreneurs and organizations — all grounded in Indigenous approaches to business and community.

Through sessions, networking, and matchmaking, Native ECon creates space for meaningful connections that lead to lasting partnerships and tangible impact. It is a place where relationships are built, knowledge is shared, and opportunities move forward.

By partnering with Native ECon, you are investing in Indigenous leadership, in strong and resilient systems, and in the future of Native economies.

We invite you to join us in this work. Sponsorship levels and partnership opportunities are outlined on the following page.

Together, we reclaim. We rebuild. We rise.

Sincerely,
Leonard Smith Jr.

NADC's Economic Development, Energy, Procurement, & Healthcare Conference

AUGUST 4-6, 2026

Billings Hotel and Convention Center
1223 Muldowney Lane, Billings, MT 59101

Visionary Level - $15,000 +

Visionary partners are leaders in action. This level includes full recognition, the opportunity to introduce a keynote or plenary session, dedicated meeting space, featured scholarship acknowledgment, and multiple social media spotlights. Partnering at this level demonstrates long-term commitment to the economic, cultural, and social wellbeing of Native communities.

Buffalo Level - $10,000

Buffalo partners make a high-impact commitment to building stronger, more resilient Native communities. Benefits include premium booth placement, guided introductions to key attendees, and recognition for scholarship support. Your partnership advances cross-sector collaboration in business, healthcare, and community development.

Bear Level - $5,000

Bear partners play a visible role in strengthening Native communities. With priority booth placement, stage recognition, and social media highlights, your contribution funds matchmaking, business development sessions, and capacity-building programs for Native entrepreneurs.

Elk Level - $2,500

Elk partners engage directly with attendees through an exhibit booth and networking opportunities. Your investment supports practical pathways for Native-owned businesses to grow, access capital, and connect with procurement opportunities.

Turtle Level - $1,000

A great entry-level way to support Native ECon while gaining brand visibility. Includes logo recognition, basic conference registration, and acknowledgement in printed materials.

How Native ECon Supports Economic Development

Native ECon brings together Native leaders, entrepreneurs, and partners from business, healthcare, energy, and government. The conference creates opportunities for collaboration, investment, and practical solutions that strengthen Native economies and communities. Each conversation and connection builds lasting relationships and tangible opportunities that ripple across Native communities. Supporting Native ECon means investing in leaders, innovation, and the future of thriving Native economies.
